PROGRAM OF ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITY	PERSON-HOURS	FALL, WINTER, and/or SPRING	DESCRIPTION OF ACTIVITY
First Meeting	25	Fall	Professor Huff spoke to current members about the significant on being a member. He advised us to go to conferences to get acquainted with old members because they can be your key to your career. He encouraged us to get to know our current members at our college because they would be employees at big corporations who can get you the first step into their door.
Labview Workshop	29	Fall	A representative from National Instruments, Westley Sgroi, taught members about labview. He provided the members with a brief overview on how to use labview and some useful tools that can be implemented using labview.
Resume Workshop	34	Winter	Professor Cockrum spoke to a classroom of HKN members on how to create a quick and a professional resume. He passed out sample resumes for the members to use in writing their resumes. He talked about the kind of questions an employer would ask during an interview and the main point of what employers would look at when viewing resumes.
New Member Information	88	Winter	Professor Sutton spoke to potential members about the significant of being a member. The initiation process sheet was given out to provide the potential members on what they would have to do in order to be admitted into the society.
Bridge Demonstration	21	Winter	Vice president, Matt Wageman, demonstrated the proper way of soldering copper wires together. One of the requirements to join HKN for our college was to build a bridge out of copper wires. The bridge is in a shape of a diamond with the letters H, K, and N inside the diamond.
Open House	185	Winter	Current members, potential members, and officers were asked to help prepare for open house. The student's parent were invited to come to open house to see what the students are doing while attending our college.
Pool Night	368	Winter	Current members, potential members, officers, and HKN faculty were invited to pool night to mingle. This was a good way for our members to get acquainted with each other.
Banquet	306	Spring	Current members, officers, and HKN faculty were invited to the banquet to celebrate the induction of new members.
